FOREST LAWN MEMORIAL PARK ASSOCIATION TO WITHDRAW PLAN TO INCREASE GROUNDS, IS STATED

After Hearing Many Protests Made by People of South Glendale, Official of Corporation Makes Announcement at Meeting

In the midst of flying words, heated discussions and spirited arguments, the members of the South Glendale avenue Improvement association last night gained what it termed a "temporary triumph" in an enthusiastic mass meeting held in the former Tropico city hall.

The meeting was called for the purpose of protesting against the proposed improvement plans of Forest Lawn Memorial Park association. As the result of the discussion Beverly E. Bassford, secretary of the corporation, announced that his concern would immediately withdraw its petition from the board of city trustees.

The small hall was crowded with approximately one hundred interested citizens, a majority of them being residents of Glendale avenue.

The meeting opened promptly at 8 o'clock with Harry C. Levey, president of the recently organized Glendale Avenue Improvement association, acting as temporary chairman. He was then automatically made permanent chairman when the assembled gathering immediately voted to consolidate with the above-mentioned association.

States Purpose of Meeting

Mr. Levey then opened the business session of the evening by stating that the meeting had been called expressely for the purpose of taking action on the much-talked-of-cemetery question. He asserted that "the said cemetery question" involved the following facts—that the Forest Lawn Memorial Park association is composed of a group of Los Angeles men who have owned a cemetery in Glendale for the last twelve years, that this association has recently purchased sixteen acres north and east of their present location for the purpose of extending the burial ground in that direction, and that there were many pros and cons among the citizens of the southern part of the city.

In quoting an article published in The Glendale Evening News last year, Mr. Levey claimed that a representative of the graveyard association made the statement that "the Forest Lawn Memorial Park cemetery contains 135 acres and that this will be sufficient burial ground for the community for the next hundred years." At this time another Los Angeles firm was endeavoring to obtain a permit to operate a cemetery in Glendale.

The chairman further added that in view of the fact that the city council has recently been petitioned to revoke the non-cementery ordinance, it is imperative that the parties interested should take immediate action on the proposition. Should it become necessary it was suggested that the referendum is possible under the state constitution. Mr. Levey maintained that the proposed sixteen-acre extension was not an immediate or a reasonable necessity, and that steps should be taken to prevent it.

Representative Is Heard

Hal Davenport then addressed the chair and suggested that it would be in order for a sponsor for the cemetery concern to have a chance to explain his side of the argument.

Beverly E. Bassford, secretary and treasurer of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park association, responded to Mr. Davenport's suggestion by giving a brief talk, explaining the plans and general outlook of the corporation. He stated that the Richardson property had been purchased primarily as a protective measure for the cemetery inasmuch as the property was being dickered for by large moving picture interests. A studio on this site, he said, would be of great harm to the city as well as to the cemetery.

Secondly, Mr. Bassford announced that it was the intention of the corporation to make an expenditure of $25,000 on the newly acquired land for improvements to make the Forest Lawn Memorial Park the scene of annual Easter sunrise services. He claimed that if this plan were carried out that these beautiful grounds would attract thousands of people each year to Glendale and that the city would receive extensive advertising through it. He also asserted

SIGN UP CONTRACT FOR CHAUTAUQUA NEXT SEASON

NUMBER OF LOCAL CITIZENS GUARANTEE ATTRACTIONS; PROGRAM COMPLETED

Much to the gratification of those who attended this year's Chautauqua and to many who were unable to attend was the announcement made that Glendale would again have the opportunity of enjoying another series of programs next year. This is due to the unselfishness of fifty-two men and women of this city who have signed a contract to act as sponsors or guarantors for next year's Chautauqua.

The closing program of the Chautauqua last night proved to be a grand finale of a week of splendid entertainment and instruction. The prelude was furnished by Lieurance's Little Symphony orchestra, with Miss Kirchner as cello soloist, and Mr. Lewis, director, accompanist and piano soloist. Their selections included compositions by DeBussy, Squire, Lieurance, as well as popular pieces. Their closing number was the overture from "William Tell."

Lecture by Captain

F. I. Drexler, director, then introduced the lecturer, Captain Dinsmore Upton, whose subject was "The Four Square Builder."

Captain Upton was formerly superintendent of municipal recreation in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and later army athletic director. He is a recognized authority on athletics and recreation. "Spreading Sunshine," and "Playing the Game Square" were two of the things emphasized by him in his talk.

He told of his experiences with the soldiers at a camp in Texas and their recreation, which often included the simplest of games played usually by children. The purpose of these games was to drill them in muscular and mental co-ordination, reflex ac-

Election On School Bonds On May 24 Is Officially Postponed

With grave doubts as to the validity of the $199,000 bond issue to be voted upon next Tuesday, May 24, trustees of the Glendale city school district has called off the election until after the new city charter becomes effective on July 7, thus making recently annexed Grand View section an integral part of the Glendale school district.

At present the Grand View district sends its pupils to the Burbank schools, although they live in Glendale. After the charter becomes effective, that section of this city automatically comes within the jurisdiction of the local school district, it is said. And it is for the reason that these people would not be represented in the vote on the bonds that the question of their validity arises at this time, provided the issue should carry.

In today's issue of The Glendale Evening News will be found the official resolution explaining the school board's action in rescinding the call for the election on May 24. It is signed by David J. Hibben, president; Nettie C. Brown, clerk, and David Black, members of the board.

COMMITTEE REPORTS MADE AT MEETING; PLANS DISCUSSED FOR ENTERTAINMENT

BY GLEN AND DALE

The regular meeting of the general convention committee was held Sunday afternoon in the men's class room of the Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock, Howard Brown presiding. After the devotional service members of the state executive committee who had been meeting in regular quarterly session in another part of the church, joined.

All members of the local committee were introduced to the state officers. It is a good plan for the state people to get acquainted with the convention workers for there will need to be much co-operation between the two groups in order to successfully carry out the Glendale state convention as all desire that it should be done. After this get-together it will be much easier to carry on the publicity and other plans.

Chairmen Make Reports

Each chairman of a sub-committee made a report. A. L. Baird, financial secretary, said that $252.48 was received at the last John Brown meeting, the collection taken especially for convention purposes, also that the Chamber of Commerce had donated $200 and 400 flags for decoration of streets and that the city government had voted $300, the city flags and a force of men to put up the decorations and take them down. His report was very pleasing to all and Glen and Dale are thankful to every one and every organization which is so willingly helping to welcome the visitors.

Will Richards announced that there were 1160 registrations to date, being equally divided between the state as a whole and Los Angeles county.

Free Entertainment

It was reported by Miss Ethel Preston of the entertainment committee that free entertainment, including a room and breakfast would be furnished all whose transportation fare was outside a $10 limit. Those whose expenses are less will pay for room and breakfast as well as other meals. Juniors will be given the same entertainment as seniors and intermediates except other meals are furnished when in $10 zone.

The county presidents and other visitors were told that there could be no house parties, not because Glendale wished to be arbitrary, but because there were no vacant houses or apartments and that parties from the same locality would be located as nearly as possible in a given city block.

Mrs. Fannie Retts announced that there would be a fine chorus for the convention. There would be three weeks' practice before the convention on anthems to be sung at that time. The chorus will have good tone and volume and the privilege of joining will be by invitation only.

There will be a grand concert Friday night, June 24, of a semi-sacred type with outside talent of note featured. This will of course, be in the C. E. auditorium.

Today's World News In Brief

(By United Press to Glendale Evening News)

DESPONDENT OVER ILL-HEALTH, GIRL KILLS HERSELF

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Despondent because of ill-health and family troubles, according to the police, Genevieve Harriett MacCleve, twenty-four, who came here a month ago from Kansas City, committed suicide today by inhaling two bottles of chloroform.

LLOYD GEORGE REITERATES STATEMENT ON SILESIA

LONDON, May 18.—Premier Lloyd George in a statement today declared the "impertinence" of French newspapers toward any one disagreeing with them would be "fatal to any entente." Lloyd George reiterated his statement in commons regarding the handling of Upper Silesia.

UNITED STATES HAS NO CONCERN IN UPPER SILESIA

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Secretary of State Hughes was understood today to have made it plain to Prince Lubomirski, Polish minister, that the United States has no concern in the settlement of the Upper Silesian question. The American government regards this as a purely European question.

PRESIDENT HARDING WILL SIGN IMMIGRATION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Harding will sign the immigration restriction bill recently sent to him by congress, Representative Albert Johnson, Washington, said today after a call at the White House. This measure restricts immigration during the next thirteen months to 3 per cent of the nationals of each foreign country in the United States in 1910.

JAPANESE MAY WITHDRAW TROOPS FROM VLADIVOSTOK

TOKIO, May 18.—Withdrawal of Japanese troops from the Vladivostok region but not from Amur or Saghalion is understood to have been favored at a conference of Japanese government representatives in Asia now in session here. All members of the cabinet, the governors of Korea and Shantung and the Japanese minister to Pekin, as well as other high officials stationed on the Asiatic continent, are attending the conference. It opened May 16 and will last about a week.

RAIL STOCKS ON N. Y. EXCHANGE OPEN AT HIGH PRICES

NEW YORK, May 18.—The rail list opened higher today on the New York Stock Exchange. The list's strength followed the railroad labor board's announcement that there will be a cut in wages effective July 1. New York Central was up 1 at 72 and Reading was up 1¼ at 73¾. Lower priced issues showed gains of half a point or so. Other stocks were stronger in sympathy. Independent steels were the only industrials not responding. Republic Steel opened at 57¼, off ¾ and within ¼ of the low for the year. United States Steel was up ⅛ at 83 5-8. American Tobacco made a new high on the move at 125. International Paper was up 7-8 at 91⅞.

ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC FLEETS MAY BE ONE ARMADA

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Atlantic and Pacific fleets are to be joined into one American armada if present plans of the navy department are carried out, it was learned authoritatively today. The question of bringing the two fleets together is understood now to be before President Harding and a decision by the president and Secretary of the Navy Denby is expected shortly. Naval officers believe that the new fleet should be assigned at first to the Pacific ocean. Though it is denied that this would be any evidence of unfriendliness toward Japan, these officers think that the international situations are such that it would be better that the main American fleet be stationed in the Pacific.

FREIGHT AND PASSENGER RATES MAY BE REDUCED

CHICAGO, May 18.—Reductions of the freight and passenger rates of the railroads was expected to follow the cut in wages to laborers was the opinion in railroad circles today. Wages of common laborers on all railroads amounting to approximately $400,000,000 will be announced by the federal railroad board here on June 1 and will become effective July 1. The board stated its position that wages should be reduced in order to allow all lines to file petitions asking for a readjustment of wages before the final decision was announced. At present only eleven roads asked wage cuts, but all others are expected to file their petitions before the wage cut of common laborers is announced on June 1. Estimates today placed the reduction of wages of unskilled labor from 12 to 16 per cent. Although the decision on June 1 will affect only unskilled laborers, the attitude of the board was understood to be that it will reduce the wages of all classes of employes of all railroads. The June 1 decision will be merely the first of a group of decisions affecting all employes.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE OF U. S. SUPREME COURT DYING

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The chief justice of the United States supreme court was dying today. Edward Douglas White, former confederate soldier, one time United States senator and a member of the most powerful judicial body in the world, long enough to see a generation of famous lawyers rise and pass, cannot recover from the effects of an operation, his physicians say. A bulletin issued by attending physicians shortly after 10 a. m., definitely stated that hope for White's recovery was abandoned. It read: "Chief Justice White was operated on Friday last. Although in a serious condition for some months past, he postponed the operation, as he felt his presence at the court was imperative. His progress was satisfactory, with normal pulse and temperature, until Tuesday afternoon, when acute palpitation of the heart occurred. He has not rallied from this condition and his recovery is not expected." Only three weeks ago White delivered a vigorous partial dissent from the opinion of his colleagues in the government's prosecution of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan. Last Friday the chief justice went to Garfield hospital for an operation. For a younger man it would have been considered a minor one. White, who is seventy-five, rallied immediately after it. Yesterday a sinking spell began and his physician, Dr. R. H. Hagner, said White could not live through the night. White was still breathing this morning, however. The chief justice has been unconscious since 8 o'clock last night. Mrs. White was still at his bedside this morning, after an all night vigil.

L. Grose and C. H. Allison. A handsome figure was paid for the property and it is stated that $20,000 has been refused for it. Plans for the new structure to replace the Grose Vulcanizing Works & Service Station already are under way, it is understood.

IMPORTANT TO YOU

We have been placing in this paper from time to time an advertisement which was headed this way.

"Have you heard of the shallow oil fields at Canajo, Camarillo, Ventura County?" Well, a great many of our Glendaleons have responded gracefully by seeking information and after receiving same, they have in every case purchased an interest in this lease, where the well is drilling.

We wish to announce that the showing of the first well has been far beyond our expectations and we hope to announce in the very near future that the first well is on production. From the showing now, you should expect a fine well. Some of you have hesitated, but if you are going to secure your interest in this enterprise at the present price, you will have to act without delay. H. L. Miller Co., 109 South Brand boulevard. ASSOCIATION PLAN TO ENLARGE WILL BE POSTPONED that with the revolutionary curtailment of monument privileges by the cemetery the surrounding property would be at an advantage and not at a detriment.

STRONG PROTEST IS MADE BY SOUTH GLENDALE PEOPLE AT MASS MEETING

Spends Money in Glendale

The corporation's representative reported that his association was one of the largest, if not the largest, enterprise in Glendale, and that they paid $33,000 in wages to local people in 1920. Also that whenever it was possible to do so all commodities were purchased in Glendale, and that last year about $75,000 was spent here through local banks.

He concluded his talk by stating that he would endeavor to answer any reasonable question from the audience.

"Would you buy a home across the street from a cemetery?" was the first question, and was asked by G. Rosengerger. After several minutes of argument the answer was, "I would."

Chairman Levey then asked Mr. Bassford several questions concerning the general status, plans and details of the association for the benefit of the audience. Answers were given to each query.

Committee Is Named

A motion by R. W. Peterman was made to appoint a committee to cope with the situation, and the following citizens were unanimously chosen: A. E. Bradshaw, G. Rosengerger, R. W. Peterman, A. A. McDonald, Mrs. E. C. Fairfield, Mrs. J. C. Whitney, Mrs. S. Rich, Mrs. A. N. Blair and Hal Davenport.

Just before the meeting was adjourned A. A. McDonald was given the floor, which he held for five minutes giving an exceedingly direct and forceful talk. He said:

"This money-making corporation is planning to destroy twenty-five of our homes on Glendale avenue by their greed for money. Don't listen to flowery speeches of this firm's representative. If the Glendale city trustees will not take action to prohibit an extension of the cemetery, then we will counteract the city trustees."

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. McDonald received loud applause.

At this stage Mr. Bassford again took the floor and announced that he was ready to explode a bombshell, said bombshell being that, inasmuch as it seemed that the time for the extension of the cemetery had been prematurely fixed, the association would immediately withdraw their petition from the Glendale city trustees.

Hal Davenport then moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Bassford as a representative of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park association for their action, and after being seconded by A. A. McDonald it was made unanimous by a rising vote.

Elder J. O. Corliss Has Unique Newspaper

Elder J. O. Corliss, 235 North Verdugo Road, is in possession of a very interesting paper published January 4, 1800, at Kingston, called the "Ulster County Gazette." This paper contains announcement of the funeral services of General Washington, whose death occurred December 14 previous. The paper is half the size of a newspaper of today. Elder Corliss secured the paper while traveling in Virginia.

Elder Corliss also has a collection of old coins of this and other countries. It includes a half cent from 1804, penny from 1798, three-cent piece, half dollar in gold and many, many others.

Military Tournament Is Under Discussion

Representatives of the Glendale and Burbank are meeting at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce today with southern California National Guard officers and others relative to the staging of a big military tournament on July 2, 3 and 4.

At the Elizabeth hotel in Burbank yesterday noon, it was decided to go ahead with show which promises an extraordinary program in the way of military, aeronautical, musical, religious and wild west events. However, plans are at such a stage that to divulge all of the events scheduled would be unwise, according to Captain Raymond Wells of Burbank.

REPLICA OF HOUSE ON BATTLE FRONT IS BUILT HERE

UNIQUE OFFICE IS DESIGNED FOR KELLY & VAN ARSDOL, LOCAL REALTY FIRM

The unique office building of blue and gold, at the corner of Colorado and Brand, built for Kelly & Van Arsdol, real estate operators, is a replica of an old house on the Belgian and Holland frontier, destroyed during the late world war by the invading Germans. The outline and drawing was submitted to Kelly & Van Arsdol by a former Canadian soldier who was "over there."

This artistic design for a real estate office is something new to Glendale and the different comments on same have been wide and varied. However, tho sum total of the whole "disturbance" is the fact that W. B. Kelly and W. L. Van Arsdol, the members of the firm of Kelly & Van Arsdol, realty operators, loan and insurance brokers, will occupy the two ground floor rooms of the much talked of building.

Big Increase in Building

The increased business of this firm in the last ninety days compelled them to get larger quarters to more conveniently take care of the increasing business.

L. D. McKeen, the builder of this office is a man of wide experience in contracting and building of homes and he will be associated with Kelly & Van Arsdol, to handle the construction of houses for Glendale future home owners.

The success of Kelly & Van Arsdol as realty operators in Glendale and vicinity is evidenced by the fact that a buyer once satisfied and pleased always bring other purchasers to them.

Glendale, the city of great developments, undoubtedly is better advertised than any city of same population on the Pacific coast, and even to the Atlantic coast.

Some of Recent Sales

Some of the sales made in the last ten days by Kelly & Van Arsdol to eastern people is the beautiful new home at 441 Milford, to Miss Rose and Miss Mary Doherty, sisters, recently of Chicago, who are happily ensconsced there and who believe in Glendale's future.

In the Casa Verdugo section, Dr. F. Marton of Tacoma, Wash., just purchased a $6,500 home on Loraine street, which will be completed in two weeks.

Sidney L. Schmidt of the Dorris Auto agency of Los Angeles bought a home on Valley View, right in the foothills, where it has been his desire to own a home ever since coming to California.

Bargains on Boulevard

Brand boulevard bargains have also interested local investors and Mrs. Empey recently purchased 130 feet on South Brand at a good figure. And on North Brand Mrs. Elizabeth G. Bray purchased fifty feet to add to her present holdings.

Continued inquiries for business and residence properties preclude any possibility of Glendale going backwards. Continued developments proclaim Glendale the metropolis of the San Fernando valley.

Use of the advertising columns of The Glendale Evening News has played a prominent part in the success of the firm of Kelly & Van Arsdol, the members state, and they are that they advise the use of The News' columns by those wishing to get results.

CHANDLER built the first Light Six and the first Six to sell for less than $2,000. That was eight years ago. It's a bigger car today, more powerful, most highly refined. And it still sells for less than $2,000.

In this period of eight years more than 140 manufacturers making automobiles at the time Chandler entered the field, or who had gone into the business within this period, have discontinued for one reason or another. The Chandler lives and thrives.

Chandler price has never been marked up because of an oversold condition. And today Chandler has no mark up to mark off.

GERMAN-POLISH WAR THREATENS

RICH MINING DISTRICT BEING CLAIMED BY BOTH SIDES; DANGER TO ALL EUROPE

OPPELN, Upper Silesia, May 16.—A German-Polish war impended today in Silesia.

Minor engagements with numerous dead have occurred already between Polish forces and German irregulars, each side claiming this rich mining district.

Heavier fighting that might mean the start of a new European conflagration was expected from hour to hour.

"Only the voluntary retirement of the Poles can prevent the Germans from attempting a big counter offensive," General Marinis, commander of the Italian plebiscite troops, declared in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Form Self-Defense League

Marinis said he had heard the Germans had organized a self-defense league of 10,000 men at Kreuseberg and elsewhere in Silesia.

"It is a question how long they can be held back," he declared.

The Italian general said his forces were interested in maintaining peace.

"They have fought the Poles," he said, "but they have held the Germans back also.

"If the Poles do not withdraw now, though, you can expect a great storm with much blood spilled and terrific destruction of property.

"I advised the Germans to remain quiet, when I was in temporary charge of the allied commission. Now it is a question how long they can be held back.

Germans Can Get Arms

"The Germans are not well armed, but—" the general smiled, knowingly, "probably they can get arms in plenty.

"I'm following a straight line here, looking neither to right nor left. We were here to see that justice and right were done, when the Poles suddenly broke in on us. It was unwarranted."

The general stiffened when asked his opinion of the French course in Silesia.

"That is something I cannot talk about," he stated.

The Poles today held a well defined line running north and south with most of Silesia on the Polish side. The Germans, however, controlling the region's railways, exerted great pressure through an ironclad blockade on foodstuffs. Much suffering already has resulted from this. Hot weather just beginning and lack of milk was expected to result in great infant mortality.

BURBANK HAS LICENSE TAX

BURBANK, May 18.—Burbank's business license tax ordinance was passed last night by the Board of Trustees, according to schedule. While there was some undercurrent of opposition, the revenue is so seriously needed that the merchants seemed ready to pay for the privilege of doing business in as good a town as Burbank.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE RECALLING THE BOND ELECTION SET FOR MAY 24, 1921.

Whereas; A school bond election to be held on May 24, 1921, has heretofore been called by this Board by a resolution passed April 28, 1921.

And Whereas; The question has arisen as to whether or not the residents of the "Grand View" district are entitled to vote at said election and the validity of the election is dependent upon the correct answer to this question,

And Whereas, The going into effect of the recently adopted Charter of the City of Glendale will remove all doubt on the question above set forth by making the "Grand View" district an intergral part of the Glendale City School District;

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved; That the resolution passed by this Board on April 28, 1921, calling the above mentioned bond election be and it hereby is rescinded, and said election will therefore not be held until a later date.

NATIONALLY KNOWN SPEAKERS COMING TO CONVENTION

NOTED ORATORS TO APPEAR AT C. E. GATHERING; PLAN HILL SERVICES FOR SUNDAY

By GLEN and DALE

Plans for the best state convention program ever are being perfected, already three nationally known speakers having been secured.

The singing is to be the best ever, Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts giving the decision solos, and Otis Ironmonger, who was in the John E. Brown meetings, leading the hosts of young people in the song services and doing some solo work. Many Glendale people who didn't get to hear him enough while he was here will want to attend the convention sessions just to listen to Mr. Ironmonger bring the message in song.

The convention will start off splendidly with Dr. Courtland Myers, pastor of the Tremont Temple Baptist church, giving the opening address. He possesses a wonderfully fascinating personality, is a great orator, and will certainly delight the audience.

Noted Speakers Secured

Rev. Ira Landrith, for eleven years a college president, one of the nation's foremost fighters for civic righteousness, and a writer of note, will be here for the last two nights. Tuesday night he will deliver his famous address on "Christian Endeavor" and then the closing address on Wednesday night.

Dr. A. L. Shelton, who is in this country recuperating from the thrilling experience of being captured by brigands in Thibet, and in whose hands he was for seventy-one days, is another speaker. He vividly tells of his experiences in that country.

A "Victory Circle" is to be another attraction, and a sunrise service on the hills Sunday morning will add to the "specials." No Glendale people will want to miss any of the splendid program, so register now and get ready for the opening.

Test Of Leadership In Senate Expected

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A test of Republican leadership in the Senate which is expected to prove to President Harding that senate Republicans are standing almost solidly with him is due on the Borah naval disarmament proposal in connection with the navy appropriation bill.

Republican leaders are letting it be known unofficially today that they intend to make the vote on Borah's proposal "a matter of confidence" in their leadership. They want to set at rest by this vote rumors often heard that the grip of Republican leadership on the rank and file of Republicans in the senate is slipping and at the same time disprove what they call "Democratic canards" regarding a "break" between Harding and Republican senators on foreign affairs.

All the odds at this time favor a victory for G. O. P. chiefs, who, it appears certain, will be defeat of Borah's rider to the naval bill for a conference on international disarmament.

But the indications are just as clear that the proposed test of Senator Lodge's leadership may be a real one. This is because a good many Republican senators including some of the new ones from the middle west and northwest, are inclined to be impressed by Borah's arguments for economy. He not only wants the international conference, he is fighting determinedly for a reduction of the $100,000,000 increase in the senate naval committee made in the bill. With the help of Senator King, Utah, a Democrat, Borah continued today to scrutinize every increase made by the senate committee including one of $9,000,000 for fuel; $4,000,000 for food; $1,000,000 for naval pay; and scores of smaller increases which run the bill up from $400,000,000 which the house provided to approximately $500,000,000.

Borah is opposing the $1,500,000 provision for beginning a supply base at the projected new naval base at Alameda, near San Francisco, $1,000,000 for a submarine base at San Pedro, an appropriation for an air station at Sand Point, Wash., and for the purchase of land for an air station at Camp Kearney, Calif. Regarding the Alameda project he takes the position that it was engineered by real estate men and that the site selected for the base was not the best available. Borah says he is not opposing these coast projects, because he is against defending the coast; he wants to find out, he declared, how many of them are needed for defense and how many "are in behalf of real estate men."

He—"Sure."
She—"Then why don't your chest go up and down like the man in the movies?"

A naturalist pleads with women to cease wearing furs during the summer at least, because fur-bearing animals are being destroyed so rapidly that in thirty years there will be practically none left.

Watching Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero, "Honey" Walker. The Giants' outfielder hit a homer in the eleventh inning beating the Reds, 4 to 3. He also hit a double and a triple.

Ernie Krueger hit a homer with one on and the Robins took the last game from the Cards, 9 to 7.

Babe Ruth slammed out his twelfth homer over the center field wall in yesterday's Yankee-Indian game. The Yanks lost, 4 to 2.

Three errors in the fourth inning gave the Pirates four runs and the Phils lost 6 to 4.

Oeschger doubled with the bases full in the eighth inning, giving the Braves an 8 to 4 victory over the Cubs.

The White Sox made a clean sweep of the series by defeating the Athletics, 10 to 4.

Mogridge fanned two pinch hitters in the ninth inning. Washington won out over Detroit, 2 to 1.

Gerber's single, Jacobson's triple, and a wild pitch by Myers gave the Browns two runs and the Red Sox lost, 4 to 2. Everett Scott of Boston played his seven hundredth successive major league game.

Local High School's Team Wins Another

The Glendale High school baseball team yesterday added another win to their long string of victories by a 13 to 6 triumph over Citrus Union High school. The Red and Black sluggers were superior in all departments of the game, the result of the contest never being in doubt. Every player made at least one hit, the total number of safe blows being an even dozen.

Dale Wood, the oratorical aspirant, pitched the first seven innings, keeping the hits scattered at all times. "Nap" McDonald, the star left field for the locals, took a fling at the hurling job for a couple of innings and to his surprise he learned that he wasn't such a poor pitcher at that.

"SWIFTEST THINGS ON EARTH"

It is interesting indeed to compare some of the slowest moving things on earth with those which travel the fastest—the fastest thing we know, of course, being radiant light, and one of the slowest things, the human thumb nail which grows two-one-billionths of a yard per second.

Next, we may here consider tree growth, the bamboo tree growing at the extremely slow rate of twenty-seven-ten-millionths of a yard per second. Now comes the proverbially slow snail which moves at the average rate of fifteen-ten-thousandths of a yard per second.

A man has walked in a record test, one mile in six and one-half minutes, equivalent to the rate of nine and one-fourth miles per hour. A man can run, as records show, at the rate of one mile in four and one-fourth minutes or at thirteen and one-half miles per hour. A man has skated at the surprising speed of one mile in two and one-fifth minutes, or about one-half as fast as an express train.

The Italian government recently erected a monument in the Mestre cemetery, near Venice, to the memory of Richard C. Fairfield, one of the first Americans killed in that country during the world war. Fairfield was decorated for valor, but was killed in 1916 by an Austrian bomb while he was transporting wounded at Mestre.

RADICALS ARE NOT RED, ONLY FADED PINK, IS CLAIM

LAUNDRY OF CONSERVATISM IS RESPONSIBLE FOR CHANGE IN COLOR, SAYS WRITER

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 18.—Wild-eyed Reds of the country have gone through the laundry of conservatism and have come out a faded pink. In other words, a radical isn't what he used to be.

A visit to the annual convention of the Industrial Workers of the World here recently demonstrated that conclusively.

For instance, none of the forty-five delegates carried t. n. t. bombs on their hips. Also, there were no printing presses turning out seditious literature by the ton. No long whiskered gentlemen, speaking in broken English, were numbered among the delegates. All the representatives talked the king's English and talked it mildly.

Advocates of the overthrow of the government were not present. Delegates advocated the acquisition of additional members and little else.

Here Is Chief Problem

The chief problem before the radicals was this:

"How in the world are we going to scrape up the $75,000 to reimburse the bondsmen of our nine convicted brethren who failed to answer the roll call at Leavenworth prison?"

Up until the time of going to press, no answer was found to the question that is causing grave concern from Roy Brown, acting secretary treasury, on down.

Brown, who was interviewed as to why the city hall was not blown to smithereens as the opening ceremony of the convention, outlined the following platform of the I. W. W.'s:

"The aim of the I. W. W. is to organize every worker of each industry into one big union."

The I. W. W. gathering is without "intellectual leadership"—only the rank and file are present.

Delegates all frankly admit they are through forever with "intellectuals," most of whom were sentenced to serve from one to twenty years in Leavenworth prison for violation of the espionage act.

Nine of the forty-six convicted I. W. W.'s skipped their bonds and failed to "dress in" at prison. Seven of these were the "intellectuals," mostly newspaper editors. These seven assumed the leadership during the war and had the most to say—the only limit of the "say" being the supply of printers' ink and white paper.

It was the boys who took their teachings at heart and went out to preach the gospel to the highways and by-ways that donned the conventional prison stripes.

Mrs. A. B. M'Irvin Is Improving In Health

Mrs. A. B. McIrvin of 702 East Orange Grove avenue returned to Glendale Monday after a ten days' rest in Avalon, Catalina Island, which she had been spending with her mother, Mrs. C. A. Beaseley. Mrs. McIrvin recently suffered nervous breakdown and took this vacation upon the advice of her physician. Her condition is greatly improved now, however, and she has practically regained her normal health.

Mrs. McIrvin's husband, A. B. McIrvin of the local Ford Agency, made the trip over to the magic isle last Friday and returned Monday with his wife.

Bending every effort toward recovery, the German government is planning to operate again the central German coal mines near Halle. These mines have not been worked for more than a century.

THE TEMPTER

Ambition, go thou hence;
Thou would'st my life ensnare;
Thou fain'st to enslave me,
And fill my days with care.

Thou plead'st, "Be a master;
Come with me along,
And I shall lead thee up to fame,
And thou shalt guide the throng.

"And thou shalt hold the rod of power,
And sway the nations by thy word;
The monarchs of the earth shall come
To grace thy court and fear thy word."

But ah! I heed thee not;
Thy temptings are in vain;
Thou would'st my freedom steal from me,
And lock my feet in chains.

In thy cold and brutal clutch
The beauties of the world are dead,
The sacredness of life is gone,
The charms of nature fled.

Yet, thou would'st have me give up all
That life holds dear—an humble lot—
To follow thee to high renown,
Where glory is, but love is not.

—Bayne Beauchamp.

FRANKLIN LANE DIES SUDDENLY

FORMER SECRETARY INTERIOR HAS HEART ATTACK AFTER BEING OPERATED UPON

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 18.—Succumbing to a sudden heart attack, Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior under President Wilson, died at St. Mary's Hospital here today.

Steady improvement had been noted by attending physicians since Lane underwent an operation two weeks ago. He had gained strength and was apparently well on the road to recovery.

At an early hour today the attending nurse noticed a weakening of the heart. She called physicians. Word was hurried to Mrs. Lane and George Lane, a brother of the former secretary, who were staying nearby.

Rapidly Grows Weaker

Lane weakened rapidly and at no time showed any response to treatment by the physicians. He passed away shortly after 6 a. m., a few minutes before Mrs. Lane and her brother-in-law reached the room.

Franklin K. Lane was born near Charlottetown, Canada, July 15, 1864. His family moved to California during his childhood.

He attended the University of California, graduating with the class of 1886. In 1893 he married Anne Wintermute of Tacoma, Wash.

He engaged in newspaper work early in life as a reporter, as New York correspondent for western newspapers and as publisher and editor of the Tacoma Daily News. He was admitted to the California bar in 1889 and practiced law in San Francisco for many years.

Candidate for Governor

He was democratic candidate for governor of California in 1902 and received his party vote in the legislature for United States senator in 1903. He was a member of the interstate commerce commission from 1905 to 1913. In 1913 he was appointed secretary of the interior in the cabinet of President Wilson.

Lane resigned as secretary of the interior on March 1, 1920.

He was vice president of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company until his death.

The Waseda University of Japan has a baseball team which plans to play American colleges across the country from the Pacific to the Atlantic, meeting Yale and Harvard this summer. They have planned to postpone the Pacific coast games until the close of the tour, so as to play the middle western and eastern colleges before they close.

Take Smiling Lessons And Exercise Muscles

LONDON—"Smile squad fall in for face drill!"

There is nothing really fantastic in this idea of face "jerks." Experts say that it takes twenty-one pairs of muscles to make a beautiful smile or an expression of horror, the effectiveness of which depends on the standard control attained.

Grimacing by numbers was actually tried by British soldiers in training during the war, and the smoother art of smiling properly is no less worth cultivating in time of peace.

"A smile is undoubtedly a very complicated gesture," said Professor Arthur Keith, one of the most distinguished anatomists in Europe. "There are muscles for screwing up the nose, curling the lips, puckering the mouth, and last but not least five or six for producing the effect popularly known as the 'glad eye.'"

A chair made from a rib of one of the first American warships, the Revenge, is to be presented to President Harding by fellow publishers. The Revenge was sunk in Lake Champlain by the British in 1776. In 1909 it was raised from the lake bed and the hull is now at Ticonderoga.

American Hen Needs Protection, Is Claim

NEW YORK, May 18.—The American hen wants protection from foreign competition. According to H. W. Kerrigan, California chicken farmer, the poultry industry in this country, which does an annual business of $1,250,000,000 faces complete demoralization through this invasion.

Kerrigan, who is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Petaluma, Calif., the chicken center of the United States, is touring the country in an effort to crystalize sentiment for a protective tariff on eggs. He said that hundreds of poultry men have already been forced out of business.

"That the hen is the real American bird is evident from the fact that poultry is raised on 87 per cent of our farms and that three million persons are directly dependent on the industry," he said in an interview today.

"Importation of cheap foreign eggs, especially from China, Australia and Argentina, has reached the stage, however, where American poultry raisers will be completely out of business within a short time."

The mining of tin has been begun in Southwest Africa by Britain interests.

TREES ON HIGHWAY, CARE OF FORESTS ARE DISCUSSED

REDWOOD ASSOCIATION OFFICER URGES CONSIDERATION BE GIVEN TO SOLUTIONS

By R. F. HAMMATT
Secretary-Manager California Redwood Association

Much attention is being paid, nowadays, to the question of the beautification of highways. Various highway commissions and state boards of forestry are actively interesting themselves in this important matter. In California, for example, the highway commission and the state board of forestry have co-operated, a nursery site has been obtained, and definite plans perfected for raising and planting suitable shade trees along the thousands of miles of the state's justly famed highway section.

And yet little or no provision has been made for perpetuating natural tree and forest growth along that system except as the state forester has been able to interest local communities (which often have no legal power to act), and except when the roads pass through government lands within the national forests. In the latter case the forest service pays particular attention to the point at issue and assures the preservation and perpetuation of such timber as will keep intact the natural beauties of the region.

But public opinion has begun to recognize the inconsistency of artificial planting and beautification along our valley highways when only a few miles away the incomparable beauties of native mountain forests are being destroyed. And that same public opinion in California (and out of it, for that matter) centers, just now, on the redwood region and on the desirability and practicability of retaining for all time a "strip" or a fringe of virgin California redwood forest along the highways within Mendocino, Humboldt and Del Norte counties. For it is, of course, out of the question to retain all the vast redwood forests of this entire region. They are entirely too valuable a natural resource, too vital a resource in these days of waning timber supply, to be withdrawn in their entirety from the economic life of the nation.

Would Face Destruction?

The desirability of retaining such strips is universally conceded. Hardly a dissenting voice will be raised. But the practicability of such a move is still it seems, a moot question. For many there are who claim that "strips," as such, will not stand; that because of the immense size of the trees, the extreme shallowness of the root system, the moisture-laden condition of the soil and the severity of the seasonal winds, the integrity of the "strips" may not be maintained. Indeed it is probably safe to say that the majority of operators in redwood timber and perhaps the majority of local residents, are firmly convinced that any strip, unless it be exceptionally well protected by adjacent topographic features, will be absolutely destroyed by wind-throw in a comparatively few years.

There is, beyond question, both logic and reason for this belief. But on the other side is the indisputable fact that on not one of the "cutting faces," i. e., the edges between cut and uncut timbers, examined in Humboldt county during the fall of 1920 (and examination was made of a great many such "faces") did wind throw extend into the uncut timber for more than one and one-half times the length of the average tree. And this was as true of the cutting face that had been exposed for forty years as it was of that but recently exposed.

Danger Is Exaggerated?

In the face of such evidence as this together with other and more general observations the opinion is ventured that the danger from windthrow in redwood is exaggerated; that, to be more specific, "strips" of virgin redwood, properly laid out, may be preserved along our highways without serious danger of total or even undue destruction by windthrow.

Such strips, to be successfully maintained, should probably never be less than one-half mile wide (one quarter mile on either side of the highway) except occasionally as the strip is well protected topographically or except as there is a naturally wind firm edge (as along a river bank) nearer than one-fourth mile from the highway. And a width greater than one-half mile will probably be necessary in exposed situations, on ridges or at the head of canyons where the prevailing winds draw through a low pass or a saddle with unusual violence.

Nor will logging rights of way for such ways must be provided in order that owners may bring out to transportation the valuable redwood forests lying behind the proposed strips jeopardize either the integrity or the ultimate appearance of the stand. For in the moisture laden redwood region vegetation grows both quickly and profusely, and it will not be long ere a mere wagon or railroad right of way is hidden to all but the most prying of eyes.

Park Problem National

The forest highway problem is not, in my opinion, a problem which should involve federal expenditure, but is essentially a state and county affair, although one in which civic bodies, semi-public organizations and public spirited individuals throughout the entire country both can and should become immediately and financially interested.

The park problem, on the other hand (and by this I mean the proposal to establish a Redwood National Park) is essentially a national problem; one which should be both undertaken and financed by federal efforts and federal funds.

In conclusion let me add that this matter of wind-throw and of its effects on highway beautification in the redwood belt should be comparatively easy of definite solution. A careful and thorough study of conditions should lead to definite conclusions; which conclusions should be supported by an overwhelming mass of incontrovertible data. And I know of no better agencies for such an investigation than the state forester's office and the forest school of the University of California.

You're Charlie Ray! Says Movie Fan To This C. E. Official

"Hello, Charlie!"

"Pardon, sir, but who do you mistake me for?" questions Howard Brown of Glendale, chairman of the state Christian Endeavor convention committee, who is manager of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender phonograph branch office in Los Angeles, who resides at 406 North Maryland avenue, Glendale.

"Charlie Ray, of course," says the motion picture fan who meets him on the streets of metropolis.

"Not me," Brown is forced to explain, but he makes many friends by the similarity of youthful countenance although he bests Ray by six years in age.

Such instances occur on the average of once a week, according to Mr. Brown.

SEEK DELEGATE TO REPRESENT CITY AT GATHERING

C. OF C. UNABLE TO FIND ANYONE WILLING TO BE SENT TO CONFERENCE

Although the California Development Board was kind enough to extend the Glendale Chamber of Commerce an invitation to have a representative present at a conference to be held in the near future, no delegate could be obtained at the meeting of the board of directors yesterday noon in the model bungalow of the Glendale Union High school. C. C. Cooper, president of the board, even offered the transportation to the person who would attend, but in Glendale people evidently do not desire to get something for nothing.

In the discussion of cutting off the Broadway corner at Central avenue in order that the former street continues through to San Fernando Road without the present decidedly dangerous jog, Director J. G. Huntley, who was appointed on an appraisal committee in carrying out this work, stated that the work could have been done one year ago for less than the cost of the land alone today.

Improvement Desired

The improvement, which seems advisable in the eyes of the industrial committee of the Chamber, will necessitate the removal of five buildings, according to Mr. Huntley. His opinion that the triangular plot left by the new shortcut should not be bought by the city for park purposes was substantiated by the other directors.

At the close of their luncheon yesterday, the board gave a rousing vote of thanks to the young women in Miss Ellen J. Hanson's cooking classes who have concluded serving a series of delightful lunches to the directorate. In fact, there are several married men who might leave home if it were possible for them to obtain such meals every day, according to one of the directors.

Probably it has been due to the alluring meals that the attendance at the meetings thus far averages better than 90 per cent, according to Secretary James M. Rhoades.

Mrs. D. W. Stephenson Is Hostess To Chapter

Chapter AH, P. E. O., was entertained yesterday by Mrs. Dwight W. Stephenson, Mrs. W. C. Wattles and Mrs. Abbie Webster at the home of the latter, 624 South Central avenue. Luncheon was served at noon. The one large table and four smaller tables used were decorated with roses.

After luncheon the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. Van Etten, at which time Miss Lillian Webster was initiated into the chapter. Miss Lucille Tholen gave a very interesting talk on "The Making of Phonograph Records." Guests of Chapter AH were Mrs. Gladys Porter and Miss Martha J. Cox, both of Chapter CJ.

The next meeting of Chapter AH will be held at the home of Mrs. Nora Tuttle.

Woman Blames Germs For Death Of Five

HONOLULU, May 18.—Mrs. Lydia Southard, alleged feminine Bluebeard, told the United Press today that she believes she is a typhoid carrier and that this explains the deaths of four of her husbands and a brother-in-law.

"I am innocent of any wrongdoing, but I do believe that I may be a typhoid carrier," she said in an exclusive interview.

"All of my husbands died of typhoid. I have physicians' certificates to prove it."

Held here on suspicion of having made away with the five men by poisoning, Mrs. Southard, who is young and pretty, at first maintained stubborn silence.

Sitting in a cell in the Honolulu jail, the woman who is alleged to have caused her husbands to insure their lives, then poisoned them and nursed them until death, gazed stonily at the wall when she was plied with questions.

But today, for the first time, she spoke freely and announced what her defense would be.

"I believe I am a natural typhoid-fever carrier," she declared.

Her statement was made official by the presence at the interview of Chief of Detectives Arthur McDuffie, who is in charge of the investigation.

"All of my husbands died of typhoid," she said calmly, with no manifestation of emotion.

"I have physicians' certificates to prove it.

"When Mr. Meyer, my last husband, died, I had three doctors hold a post mortem examination.

"They found at first that he had ptomaine poisoning, but that acute typhoid had developed and had caused his death.

"Other physicians found that my other three husbands had died from typhoid fever likewise."

Then she paused a moment and added emphatically:

"I am innocent of any wrongdoing. But I do believe that in view of it all I may be a typhoid carrier."

(A typhoid carrier is a person who is immune to the disease, but who carries the germs and innocently communicates the malady to others who are susceptible to it).

Mrs. Southard declared today that her present husband, Paul Vincent Southard, chief petty officer of the U. S. S. Monitor, Monterey, did not know that she had had four previous husbands, all of whom died, under strange circumstances. Southard today appeared dazed by the turn of events. He did not go to see his wife and refused to talk to newspapermen.

New Styles Indicate Longer Skirts, Report

CHICAGO, May 18.—The reason girls dress in narrow knee length skirts was revealed today.

The dressless sex—curious man—sits hidden behind the lingerie counter and pulls the string that regulates the length of milady's gown.

Visits to Chicago's greatest style-setting stores of today showed that men design the styles, even to the most minute detail and that girls have very little to say as to what they wear.

For instance, Lucille, Ltd., one of the firms that has much to do in originating styles, was visited.

"May we interview Lucille?" the girl behind the—hair pin counter was asked.

Lucille was introduced. Lucille wore a salt and pepper suit. Lucille smoked a cigar. Lucille was a man.

T. J. Duggan, alias Lucille, Ltd., has much to do in setting the styles that shock the nation.

These are the latest style according to the man who helped create them:

"The ridiculous narrow and atrociously short skirt is gone where the woodbine twineth and I sincerely hope it will not be revived until dear old Gabriel blows his trumpet.

"The sleeveless and extremely decollette evening gown is unfortunately but unquestionably popular and one might venture to say that as evening gowns, they are wonderful bathing suits.

"Nevertheless, there are some women who remain within the bounds of the dignified and still wear beautiful, yet conservatively designed, evening gowns.

"New evening gowns are eight inches from the floor.

"Walking or street skirts are ten inches from the sidewalk.

"The trend is downward. All new styles show longer skirts.

"But there will always be daring women who will exploit wild styles and exaggerate even the original design.

"Girls—man has spoken, let the hems out of your skirts."

Six skeletons, believed to be those of white soldiers who lost their lives in combat with the Indians during the early wars in the Oregon country, were unearthed by excavation crews working on the Columbia river highway near the Deschutes river. Army accounterments were found in the graves.

RAILROAD CHIEF IN DEFENSE OF RATE GIVEN FREIGHT

DENIES HIGH CHARGE CAUSE OF SLUMP IN BUSINESS; RECOMMENDS REMEDIES

WASHINGTON, May 18.—An attack on the "widespread propaganda" for lower freight rates opened the senate interstate commerce committee' investigation of the railroads.

Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific, told the committee that general deflation and not high freight rates was responsible for business stagnation. He blamed this stagnation for inability of producers to dispose of their products and charged that in many cases the middleman was responsible for lower rate agitation.

The witness proposed a series of reforms involving regulation of transportation systems competing with the railroads.

Says People Misled

"The fact is," Kruttschnitt said, "that even since the rates have been advanced, the cost of transporting commodities is far less than the toll taken by the commission merchant and the retailer. Consequently, people are misled and conclude that high rates have stopped the movement of a large amount of freight and that the railways would make more money if they would reduce rates and thereby revive traffic.

"Many commodities would not move even if the freight charges on them were abolished entirely, because producers can find no market," the witness continued, and in support of this pointed out that while ocean rates have been at their lowest point in their history, "ships here and abroad are idle."

Taking the case of lemons. Kruttschnitt said the trouble was Sicilian competition and not the freight rates. The facts about the rates on cantaloupes had been misrepresented in interest of the middleman, Kruttschnitt said.

Remedies Recommended

As remedies for the railroad situation, resulting from too small revenues, Kruttschnitt recommended:

Adequate tolls and regulation of the use of highways built with public money.

Make inland waterways pay for themselves by regulation and proper tolls.

Keep the government out of the ship operating business and halt expenditures for coast-to-coast ocean transportation in competition with the railroads.

Tolls for the Panama canal sufficient to pay its cost of operation and maintenance.

Do not deprive trans-continental carriers of coast-to-coast traffic by mittee's investigation of the railinflexibly enforcing a long and

ALMOST IMMORTAL PLANT

In some of the islands of the West Indies there grows a creeping moss, on account of its exceedingly hardy properties called the "life plant." It is quite indestructible by any means except immersion in boiling water or application of a red hot iron. It may be cut up and divided in any manner and the smallest shreds will throw out roots, grow and bud. The leaves of this extraordinary plant have been planted in a close, airtight dark box, without moisture of any sort, and still they grew.

Because he criticized newspapers which display "sensational events," a Denver pastor published an "ideal newspaper" for one day. The publishers of the Denver Post invited the pastor to become editor-in-chief for a day. On that date the minister dictated how the news should be displayed, determined news values, directed assignment of reporters and had complete control.

Business Men Appeal For Government Help

NEW YORK, May 18.—American business men through the National Association of Manufacturers today appealed to the government to aid in promoting domestic prosperity by the following means:

Adopt a "constructive" international policy.

Repeal the excess profits tax and establish a direct sales tax.

Assist the railroads in restoring "normal conditions of employment."

For the country as a whole the association urged universal adoption of the open shop principle.

Elimination of strikes.

Promotion of a greater spirit of co-operation between employers and employes.

Increased practice of thrift.

The appeal was made for the association by its president, Stephen C. Mason of Pittsburgh, in his annual address.

Nazimova Attraction Palace Grand Today

The great Nazimova in "Billions," her newest photoplay, is announced as the feature attraction at the Palace Grand today. Advance reports credit this as being the most fascinating screen drama that the incomparable Nazimova has ever appeared in.

As its title implies, "Billions" has to do with wealthy people. It relates the story of a Russian princess who comes into riches and of a poet who also inherits a fortune. They have loved as the result of his verses, but have never met until they both journey to a fashionable winter resort in California and are introduced.

Meanwhile frauds are endeavoring to blackmail the poet-millionaire, and he is saved from a scandal when the princess, at the risk of her own reputation, gets into his bed in negligee to thwart the designs of the other woman.

Many exhilarating scenes are shown in "Billions." It is an adaptation of a celebrated French stage success.

A cartoon, a comedy and the latest news in film will round out the picture bill while the musical program includes the overture "Faust," "Just a Little Sympathy" and "Answer, Saying That You Love Me." There are five shows daily at which you can see this big show.

Mrs. Stillman Will Not Take Compromise

NEW YORK, May 18.—Mrs. James A. Stillman has flatly refused the offer of her husband to withdraw his divorce suit on certain conditions, it was learned from an authoritative source today. Mrs. Stillman said she could give no reason for compromising.

Stillman's offer to compromise was presented last Friday, it was stated, the day that hearings in the case were ordered postponed. The United Press was informed that Stillman offered to do as follows:

Withdraw his suit and the charges against Mrs. Stillman.

Agree to Mrs. Stillman getting a divorce in Paris.

Give her an income of $7,500 a month.

In return he demanded that she must never return to, or again reside in the United States or Canada; also that she relinquish any claim of the child, Guy, to his share in the trust fund belonging to the Stillman children. Mrs. Stillman denied the stipulation applying to Guy on the grounds that it was an admission of Guy's illegitimacy.

From Plow Horses To Speeding Auto

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 18.—A young man who followed the plow horses in their slow heavy stride on a farm near Crookston, Minn., five years ago, will try to make Ralph De Palma and other speed demons eat his dust on the Indianapolis motor speedway May 30.

The youth is Jules Ellingboe, whom a race promoter picked up on the farm and developed into king of the dirt tracks. Now Ellingboe is seeking to take the crown in the greatest automobile race of all time—the 500-mile international sweepstakes—two weeks hence.

Flashing around the two and a half mile brick oval, he shaved the track record in a trial spin. He traveled 101 1-2 miles an hour, and his time for the 2 1-2 mile trip was 1:29 flat. This is two-fifths of a second slower than the track record. Ellingboe drives a Frontenac.

tion, etc., which was invaluable to them later on at the front. He told of the boys playing that "big game" better because they knew that someone interested in them was watching.

He urged the encouragement of parents to their children in even the little games. This bond of interest and affection, he stated, was what later made better men and women of these children.

Cannot Be Trusted

Captain Upton stated that anyone who will play a dirty trick even in the little games cannot be trusted in any of the bigger games. The caliber of the people of a community can be judged by the play of the children in that community. Here home training reflects, for a child is most natural when at play.

"Any town or city worthy of living in is worthy of the best efforts of the people to make it a better city for their children to live in." Captain Upton then urged the people to try to help the boys and girls of Glendale or any other city in a more instructive way instead of by criticism. He made an appeal for playgrounds and told of the great effect upon the morals of the boys and girls.

One of the points brought out was the decrease of juvenile delinquency in cities well supplied with playgrounds. The co-operation taught in the games at the playground is invaluable to the boys and girls in the bigger games of life," he said. Captain Upton closed his speech with an appeal for "playing the game together."

The entire afternoon's entertainment was provided by Lieurance's Symphony orchestra.

Height Increased By Efforts Of Science

COLUMBUS, O., May 18.—Science has fed ten inches to the height of a 10-year-old Ohio girl in the last six months. The 9-year-old sister of the girl has eaten almost as much height.

That which adds inches to a person's size is tablets of thyroid glands of cattle and lambs.

The two children grown by science are the daughters of Mrs. T. W. Espencheid of New Philadelphia, according to Dr. H. H. Goddard of the state bureau of juvenile research which has supervised the phenomenal development. Physically the two girls were the size of 18-months-old babies and neither could walk or talk when brought to the attention of the bureau last November.

"After twenty-seven days of thyroid gland feeding the oldest child has grown three inches and today has grown a total of ten inches," Dr. Goddard said. "The other has advanced almost as rapidly."

Dr. Goddard declared this is the fastest physical growth science has records of.

Eugene O'Brien Shown As Glendale's Feature

In Eugene O'Brien's newest Selznick picture he is once again the society gentleman and thoroughbred. He has never played to better advantage than in "Worlds Apart," his latest Selznick picture, which opened at the Glendale Theatre yesterday and is to be seen again today.

As Hugh Ledyard, a young fellow with faith in the goodness of mankind, he is very appealing. His faith shattered by the girl he loves when she marries a man with more money, he harbors a grudge against the world and determines to do something to hurt. He rescues a girl who has jumped into a river with the intent of killing herself, and these two, with the distrust of mankind uppermost in their minds, marry. They agree to live together and present a brave front to those who have wronged them. However, Hugh is in darkness as to his wife's past. Astounding facts are unearthed when a servant in their house is accused of having killed a guest, a rough, uncouth upstart.

The mystery is cleared in a unique manner, and the principals settle down to a life of happiness, having recognized their love for each other.

And while the picture is the feature, little Bobby Lehman is the better half of the program's attractiveness for he is a local lad who has become a headliner. His interpretations of little dancing girls are wonderful, everyone agrees and Rolin comedy "Bubbling Over" is just that. A Pathe Review also is shown and Madame Clement plays "Mammy" appealingly. Hundreds are taking opportunity of the coupons offered in The Glendale Evening News each night to gain one free admission each week.

GLENDALE

The Beverly Hills in the distance,
Adorned by the mists as a veil,
Stand guard of a beautiful city,
Known by the name of Glendale.

When the sun is flooding the valley,
And all of her beauty is seen,
She rivals the Garden of Eden,
Arrayed in her garments of green.

Its vine-covered porches of ivy,
With baskets and vases of fern,
Are entrances into the houses,
Where incense to happiness burn.

The Everlasting Mountains are telling,
The richness of beauty and love,
The care of the Heavenly Father,
The Light of His Kingdom above.

Harding Campaign On Economy Is Under Way

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—The Harding administration's drive to force its household expenses to normalcy is in full swing today.

Steps taken thus far in the economy campaign which is just starting, according to administration officials are:

1—Instruction to cabinet members that they must stop the practice of overstepping congressional appropriations and turning in deficiency requests to cover the excesses.

2—Appointment of Walter F. Brown to represent the president in mapping out a reorganization of executive departments on an economy basis.

3—Ordering of a survey of wasteful practices in leasing private buildings for government use.

A careful study of the financial condition of the government by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has failed to give much hope of material reductions in tax burdens except as leaks in the everyday operations of governmental manchinery can be plugged, and for this reason the new administration is laying especially heavy emphasis on the economy program.

The investigation of waste in leasing of private buildings grew out of discoveries made by Postmaster General Hays, who believes that millions of dollars are being unnecessarily expended in this way. In many cities federal officers and branch offices of government commissions are occupying elaborate suites in high-priced office buildings, where more modest but ample accommodations could be had.

Blames Parents For Girls Running Away

CHICAGO, May 18.—Blame for runaway daughters was placed squarely uon the shoulders of parents today by Mrs. Alice Clemons, Chicago's famous police woman.

Mrs. Clemons issued a warning to the nation's parents to prevent their girls from leaving home. Girls, suffering from spring restlessness, are disappearing in greater numbers than ever before, she said. Two hundred cases of missing girls have been reported to Chicago police this spring.

This advice was given parents by Mrs. Clemons who is herself the mother of three grown daughters:

"Do not take every cent of your daughter's income when she starts working. Take a reasonable amount for board and room, make her save some and then give her plenty of spending money.

"The girls want pretty things. If they cannot buy them out of their own income, they will get them some way.

"Parents should fix up their homes so that the daughter need not be ashamed of inviting her men friends to call. Unless this is done the girls will run away to some rooming house where men can be entertained.

"Girls should be guided by kindness, not driven."

Mrs. Clemons was one of the first policewomen in America. She has talked with thousands of fallen girls during her nine years' work in Chicago.

"No wonder I'm bad," many girls have confided in Mrs. Clemons. "All my earnings were taken by my parents. I saw pretty clothes—and I got them."

Mrs. Clemons said that girls care little what happens to them after they run away from home.

A Louisiana negro convicted of murder in the first degree, will serve a life imprisonment sentence instead of hanging. The sheriff forgot the date of the execution and the board of pardons contended that the negro's life had been placed in jeopardy once and commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

Tom Cadillac, Globe Trotting Cat, Back

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Tom Cadillac, globe trotting cat, was back in the United States today.

He rode through the Golden Gate perched on the shoulder of C. G. Poole when the liner Sonoma arrived from Australia. At the wharf he was met by a battery of movie cameras and a corps of newspaper correspondents.

Tom refused to talk but kindly permitted the reception committee to stroke his nose. Then he retired to a fashionable hotel to partake of additional calves' hearts—his favorite food.

Mr. Tom Cadillac left Detroit at an unknown date, a stowaway in an automobile destined for Australia.

"When we opened the automobile crate at Sydney," Poole, who is an Australian automobile man, said today, "Tom was so emaciated we thought he was dead. When he came to life, however, the government ordered him either chloroformed or deported."

Poole wired the automobile factory he was bringing home the cat. He ordered forty calves' hearts placed on ice for Tom, engaged passage on the liner Sonoma and started for the United States.

Today, with eight of his nine lives still intact and insured for $5000, Tom reached his native land and will leave immediately for Detroit.

FEW KANSAS CO-EDS PERFECT

The physically perfect co-ed at the University of Kansas is far in the minority, according to Dr. Martha Bacon of the department of physical education at the institution. Fully 75 per cent of the women students who enter K. U. have some physical defect, ranging from minor foot defects to serious heart diseases, asserts Dr. Bacon.

Dr. Bacon's estimate is not the result of empty calculations, but is based on actual physical examinations she has made of the students upon their entrance into the university. It is a real rarity to find a woman, she says, who has not some slight curvature of the spine or has perfect feet. In fact, Dr. Bacon declared, there is only one woman student in the entire university at present who has absolutely perfect feet, and she was not born in this country.

However, the outlook for the college co-eds is not so dark, Dr. Bacon says, as the majority of the physical defects can be remedied through proper physical training.

Theory Of Relativity Being 'Ruined' Again

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Scientists have become all fussed up over the aurora borealis.

They are blaming it onto the sun, to a large extent and are accusing it not only of disrupting all wire communication in the United States last Saturday night, but of ruining Dr. Einstein's theory of relativity.

Professor T. J. J. See, astronomer at the United States Naval Observatory at Mare Island, issued a statement declaring the aurora gave the "final coup de grace to Einstein's theory which has no physical basis." Einstein's theory denies the existence of ether. He declared that the aurora was due to "spot development in the sun" and that the ether was the medium through which its influence was transmitted to the earth.

Today Father Ricard of Santa Clara university, the "padre of the rains," who forecasts the weather through his studies of sun spots, refused to agree with Professor See.

"It appeals to me, but I am not ready to adopt it yet," Father Ricard said with regard to the Einstein theory.

"But to say that the aurora borealis shows the existence of ether and therefore the falsity of the Einstein theory is funny."

So aurora by her sudden and unheralded visit of Saturday night, started something.

Literary Section Of Club Holds Meeting

The Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met yesterday afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. A. M. Williams, 208 South Orange street. Mrs. Edwin Cleophas gave a very excellent paper on "Scotland," dealing with its geographical position to England and its early history. Mrs. John Dunn gave a very fine review from current magazines. Mrs. C. A. Brandstater very ably handled current events.

Another very interesting review was that given by Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, who has been reviewing series of articles on "Salvaging Civilization," by H. G. Wells, which have been appearing in a weekly magazine.

Arrangements were discussed for the last meeting of the year, June 7, which will be in the form of a social afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Williams. This meeting will be open to members of the section and the guests will be those who have assisted the section with their programs throughout the year. Mrs. C. E. Stanley was chosen curator for the coming year.

The yak, or woolly ox, of Tibet, is to be raised in Alaska and the Yukon country. The yak has been domesticated for centuries and its haunts are the snowcovered highlands of Tibet, thousands of feet above the sea. The animal eats a coarse wiry grass and compares favorably with range cattle in weight. The wool and hide are also valuable.
